Section 1 – Registrant's Business and Operations

Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On August 28, 2008, the Board of Directors of Daktronics, Inc. (the "Company") declared a dividend distribution of one common stock purchase right (a "Right") for each outstanding share of the Company's Common Stock, no par value (the "Common Shares"), payable to shareholders of record at the close of business on November 19, 2008 (the "Record Date"). Each Right entitles the registered holder to purchase from the Company at any time following the Distribution Date (as defined below) one-tenth of a Common Share, or a combination of securities and assets of equivalent value, at a purchase price of $100.00 per one-tenth of a Common Share (the "Purchase Price"), subject to adjustment. The description and terms of the Rights are set forth in a Rights Agreement (the "Rights Agreement"), dated as of November 19, 2008, between the Company and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., as Rights Agent. The Rights Agreement is intended to be a new rights agreement that effectively extends protections similar (with certain modifications) to those provided by the Company's previous Rights Agreement dated as of November 19, 1998 (the "1998 Agreement"), upon expiration of the 1998 Agreement at the close of business on November 19, 2008.

Initially, the Rights will be evidenced, with respect to any of the Common Share certificates outstanding as of the Record Date, by such Common Share certificates, and no separate Rights Certificates will be distributed. The Rights will separate from the Common Shares and will be distributed to the holders thereof on the "Distribution Date," which shall be the first to occur of the following: (i) the close of business on the tenth business day following a public announcement that a person or group of affiliated or associated persons (an "Acquiring Person") has acquired, or obtained the right to acquire, beneficial ownership of fifteen percent (15%) or more of the outstanding Common Shares, other than as a result of a Permitted Offer, as defined (the "Stock Acquisition Date"); or (ii) the close of business on the tenth business day (or such later date as the Board of Directors, acting by a majority of the Outside Directors, may determine) following the commencement of a tender offer or exchange offer (other than a Permitted Offer, as defined) that would result in a person or group beneficially owning fifteen percent (15%) or more of the outstanding Common Shares. A “Permitted Offer” means a tender or exchange offer which is for all outstanding Common Shares at a price and on terms determined, before the purchase of shares under such tender or exchange offer, by at least a majority of the members of the Board who are Outside Directors, to be adequate and otherwise in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders (other than the Person or any Affiliate or Associate thereof on whose behalf the offer is being made). “Outside Directors” are members of the Board who are not officers of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and who are not Acquiring Persons or Affiliates, Associates, nominees or representatives of Acquiring Persons.

Until the Distribution Date, (i) the Rights will be evidenced by Common Share certificates and will be transferred with and only with such Common Share certificates, (ii) new Common Share certificates issued after November 19, 2008 will contain a notation incorporating the Rights Agreement by reference, and (iii) the surrender for transfer of any certificate for Common Shares outstanding will also constitute the transfer of the Rights associated with the Common Shares represented by such certificate.

The Rights are not exercisable until the Distribution Date and will expire at the close of business on November 19, 2018, unless earlier redeemed or exchanged by the Company as described below (the earliest of all such dates, the “Expiration Date”).

As soon as practical after the Distribution Date, Rights Certificates will be mailed to holders of record of the Common Shares as of the close of business on the Distribution Date and, thereafter, the separate Rights Certificates alone will represent the Rights. All Common Shares issued before the earlier of the Distribution Date and the Expiration Date will be issued with Rights. Common Shares issued after the Distribution Date upon the exercise of employee stock options, issuances under other employee stock benefit plans or the conversion of convertible securities issued before the Distribution Date will be issued with Rights.

If a person or group, with certain exceptions, becomes the beneficial owner of more than fifteen percent (15%) of the then outstanding Common Shares, other than as a result of a Permitted Offer, then each holder of a Right will thereafter have the right to receive, upon exercise for a purchase price of $100.00 per one-tenth of a Common Share, that number of Common Shares (or, in certain circumstances, cash, property or other securities of the Company) having a market value of two times the Purchase Price of the Right. The Rights, however, are not exercisable following the occurrence of the event set forth above until such time as the Rights are no longer redeemable by the Company as set forth below. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, following the occurrence of an event set forth above, all Rights that are, or (under certain circumstances specified in the Rights Agreement) were, beneficially owned by any Acquiring Person (or certain related persons and transferees) will be null and void. The event set forth in this paragraph is referred to as a “Section 11(a)(ii) Event.”

For example, at a Purchase Price of $100.00 per Right, each Right not owned by an Acquiring Person (or by certain related parties) following a Section 11(a)(ii) Event would entitle its holder to purchase $200.00 worth of Common Shares (or other consideration as noted above) for $100.00. If the Common Shares had a per share value of $20.00 at such time, the holder of each valid Right would be entitled to purchase eight Common Shares for $80.00.

If, at any time following the Stock Acquisition Date, other than pursuant to a Permitted Offer, (i) the Company is acquired in a merger or other business combination transaction in which the Company is not the surviving corporation or the Common Shares are changed or exchanged or (ii) fifty percent (50%) or more of the Company’s assets or earning power is sold or transferred, each holder of a Right (except Rights which previously have been voided as set forth above) shall thereafter have the right to receive, upon exercise thereof for a purchase price equal to the current Purchase Price of the Right multiplied by the number of one-tenths of a Common Share for which a Right is then exercisable, that number of shares of common stock of the acquiring company which at the time of such transaction will have a market value equal to two times the Purchase Price of the Right. The events set forth in this paragraph are referred to as “Section 13 Events,” and the Section 11(a)(ii) Event and the Section 13 Events are collectively referred to as the “Triggering Events.”

At any time after the occurrence of a Section 11(a)(ii) Event, at the election of a majority of the Outside Directors, the Company may exchange the Rights (other than Rights which have become void), in whole or in part, for Common Shares, with each Right to be exchanged for a number of Common Shares equal to the result obtained by dividing (x) a number equal to ten times the Purchase Price by (y) the current market price per Common Share (subject to adjustment). In any such exchange, the Company, at its option, may substitute a series of preferred stock of the Company with rights, privileges and other terms substantially the same as the Common Shares.

The Purchase Price payable, and the number of Common Shares issuable, upon exercise of the Rights are subject to adjustment from time to time to prevent dilution (i) in the event of a stock dividend on, or a subdivision, split, combination, consolidation or reclassification of, the Common Shares, (ii) if all holders of any security of the Company are granted rights, options or warrants to subscribe for or purchase Common Shares or convertible securities at less than the current market price of the Common Shares, or (iii) upon the distribution to holders of Common Shares of evidences of indebtedness or assets (excluding regular cash dividends) or of subscription rights or warrants (other than those referred to above).

With certain exceptions, no adjustments in the Purchase Price will be required until cumulative adjustments amount to at least one percent (1%) of the Purchase Price. The Company will not be required to issue fractional Common Shares (other than fractions which are integral multiples of one-tenth of a Common Share which may, at the election of the Company, be evidenced by depository receipts), and, in lieu of such fractional Common Shares, an adjustment in cash will be made based on the market price of the Common Shares on the last trading date before the date of exercise.

In general, at any time before the first to occur of (i) ten days following the Stock Acquisition Date, or (ii) the Final Expiration Date, the Company, acting by a majority of the Outside Directors, may redeem the Rights in whole, but not in part, at a price of $0.01 per Right (payable in cash, stock or other consideration deemed appropriate by the Board of Directors). Immediately upon redemption of the Rights, the Rights will terminate, and the only right of the holders of the Rights will be to receive the $0.01 redemption price. However, if the Company receives a Qualified Offer (as defined below), the Rights may be redeemed by way of shareholder action taken at a special meeting of shareholders called by the Board for the purpose of voting on a resolution accepting the Qualified Offer and authorizing the redemption of the Rights pursuant to the provisions of the Rights Agreement. Generally, the special meeting must be held not less than 90 days and not more than 120 days after the later of the date the Qualified Offer is received and the date of any previously scheduled meeting of shareholders to be held within 60 days after the Offer Date. Such an action by shareholders requires the affirmative vote of holders of the greater of (A) a majority of the voting power of the shares of Common Stock present and entitled to vote on the resolution, or (B) a majority of the voting power of the minimum number of shares of Common Stock entitled to vote on the resolution that would constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the meeting (except where the Company's Articles of Incorporation or the South Dakota Business Corporation Act require a larger proportion or number), as such vote is determined at the special meeting, not giving effect to any affirmative votes cast by the offering Person or any of its Affiliates, and is effective immediately before the consummation of any Qualified Offer to be consummated within 60 days after the special meeting.

A "Qualified Offer" is a tender offer for all outstanding shares of Common Stock not already beneficially owned by such Person that meets the following conditions:

- the same per share price and consideration is offered for all shares, and the consideration offered is no less than the then current market price for shares of Common Stock, is at least eighty percent (80%) cash (and any non-cash portion is comprised of shares listed on The NASDAQ Global Market or a national exchange), and is to be paid upon consummation of the offer,
- on or before the commencement of the offer, the offer is accompanied by written definitive financing commitments and/or the person making the offer has on hand cash or cash equivalents, for the full amount of all financing necessary to consummate the offer and has irrevocably committed to use such cash for the offer and to set apart and maintain such cash until the offer is consummated or withdrawn,
- the offer requests that the Company call a special meeting of shareholders to accept the offer and contains a written agreement of the person making the offer to pay at least fifty percent (50%) of the Company's costs of the special meeting,
- the offer by its terms remains open for at least 30 business days plus 20 business days after any change in price or after any bona fide alternative offer for a higher consideration is made,
- the offer is accompanied by a written opinion of a nationally recognized investment banking firm, stating that the price to be paid to holders pursuant to the offer is fair and including any written presentation of such firm showing the range of values underlying such conclusion,
- on or before the date the offer is commenced, such Person makes an irrevocable written commitment to the Company:
- to acquire, within five Business Days upon completion of the offer, all shares of Common Stock then not beneficially owned by such Person at the same price, and for the same consideration, per share as paid in the offer,
- not to amend its offer to reduce the price,
- that such Person will not make another offer for the Common Stock within one year if at least two-thirds (2/3) of the common stock not owned by such Person has not been tendered, and
- such offer is not subject to any financing, funding or similar condition, does not include any condition relating to completion of or satisfaction with any due diligence or similar investigation, and otherwise provides for usual and customary terms and conditions.

In the determination of the fairness of any offer, the Board retains the authority to reject, advise the shareholders to reject, or take other action in response to any offer necessary to the exercise of its fiduciary duties.

Immediately upon action of the Board of Directors of the Company ordering the redemption of the Rights or upon the effectiveness of a redemption of the Rights pursuant to shareholder adoption of a resolution accepting a Qualified Offer and authorizing the redemption of the Rights, the only existing right of a holder of the Rights shall be to receive the redemption price for the Rights.

Until a Right is exercised, the holder thereof, as such, will have no rights as a shareholder of the Company, including, without limitation, the right to vote or receive dividends. The creation of the Rights should not be taxable to shareholders. Shareholders may, however, depending upon the circumstances, recognize taxable income if the rights become exercisable for Common Shares (or other consideration) of the Company or for common stock of an acquiring company as set forth above.

The Rights have certain anti-takeover effects. The Rights will cause substantial dilution to a person or group that attempts to acquire the Company on terms not approved by the Company's Board of Directors. The Rights should not interfere with any merger or other business combination approved by at least a majority of the Outside Directors of the Company because the Outside Directors may, at their option, either (i) declare the transaction to be a "Permitted Offer," or (b) at any time before the close of business on the 10th Business Day following the Stock Acquisition Date, redeem the then outstanding Rights at the redemption price.

The Rights Agreement contains a so-called "TIDE" provision, which provides that a shareholder rights agreement committee of the Board of Directors of the Company will review (not less than once every three years) whether maintaining the Rights Agreement continues to be in the best interest of the Company and the Company's shareholders.

Any of the provisions of the Rights Agreement, including the definition of Acquiring Person or the Purchase Price, may be amended by at least a majority of the Outside Directors before the Distribution Date. After the Distribution Date, the provisions of the Rights Agreement may be amended by at least a majority of the Outside Directors in order to cure any ambiguity, to make changes which do not adversely affect the interests of holders of Rights (excluding the interests of any Acquiring Person), or to shorten or lengthen certain time periods under the Rights Agreement. However, no amendment to adjust the time period governing redemption can be made at such time as the Rights are not redeemable.

A copy of the Rights Agreement, which specifies the terms of the Rights and includes as Exhibit A the Form of Rights Certificate, is filed by the Company on the date of this Current Report on Form 8-K with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an exhibit to a Registration Statement on Form 8-A.

The foregoing summary description of the Rights Agreement and the Rights does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to such exhibit, which is incorporated herein by reference.

A copy of the press release announcing the Rights dividend is attached hereto as an exhibit and is incorporated herein by reference.

Daktronics, Inc. Adopts New Shareholder Rights Plan

Plan extends the rights provided in its previous shareholder rights plan

Brookings, S.D. – August 29, 2008 - Daktronics, Inc. (Nasdaq - DAKT) today announced that its Board of Directors adopted a new shareholder rights agreement that will take effect when the current plan, adopted in 1998, expires on November 19, 2008. In connection with the adoption of the rights agreement, the Board declared a dividend of one common share purchase right on each outstanding share of Daktronics' common stock. The issuance of the rights under the rights agreement will be made to shareholders of record as of the close of business on November 19, 2008.

The rights are designed to enable all Daktronics shareholders to realize the full long-term value of their investment and to provide for fair and equal treatment of all shareholders if an unsolicited attempt is made to acquire Daktronics. Daktronics believes that the rights agreement will help protect shareholders against abusive takeover tactics that may be used to gain control of the company without paying a price that is in the best interest of all shareholders. The rights agreement was not adopted in response to any known offers for Daktronics and is similar to rights agreements adopted by many other companies. The rights agreement has no immediate dilutive effect and does not prevent Daktronics or its shareholders from accepting a fair offer to acquire Daktronics in a negotiated transaction.

The rights will be exercisable only if a person or group acquires 15% or more of Daktronics' common stock or announces a tender offer, consummation of which would result in ownership by a person or group of 15% or more of the common stock. Each right will initially entitle shareholders to buy one-tenth of one share of common stock per common share owned at an initial exercise price of $100.00 per full share, subject to adjustment. If any person becomes a 15% or more shareholder of Daktronics, then each right (subject to certain limitations) will entitle its holder to purchase, at the rights' then-current exercise price, a number of common shares of Daktronics or of the acquiror having a market value at the time of twice the rights' full share exercise price.

Daktronics' Board of Directors may redeem the rights for $0.01 per right at any time before the rights become exercisable. Unless the rights are redeemed, exchanged or terminated earlier, they will expire on November 19, 2018.

Additional details regarding the rights agreement are contained in a Form 8-K filed by Daktronics with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
